A zoom call was initiated with Dickerson and Bakker. Jeff Crabtree gave a presentation on what a fundraising campaign would look like with their firm. He also discussed the feasibility study that would be required. Blueprints of the new facility proposed would also be required. The funds would have to be in hand to be considered a success as well as all expenses being covered. The board asked questions.

Tammy Veenstra took time to present her concerns regarding the staff working beyond their capacity to handle all the tasks presented to them. Primarily the After School Program. Teachers have been staying beyond their normal working hours in order to make sure that it is properly supervised. Tammy expressed her frustration that these issues are not resolved. It was proposed that a bulletin be sent out in the next newsletter as well as by email to request volunteers to fill this gap to be done as soon as possible.
